News Release

Paint Application Process given the seal of Approval by Akzo Nobel

The paint process used by Record RSS, one of the Countries leading providers of Play and Sports equipment have recently been endorsed by Akzo Nobel. Akzo Nobel reviewed and subsequently approved the process to apply the Interpon Powder Coatings anti-corrosion range of products.

The Interpon pz770 is a zinc rich powder which outperformed all others tested by the Company and will provide the necessary life expectancy endorsed by Record RSS warranties. This "Approved Applicator" status will ensure that necessary testing and auditing is conducted to the standards required to be a partner of Akzo Nobel's.

Akzo Nobel's Area Sales Managers, Chris Jackson and Chris Rate presented the Approved Applicator certificate and Chris Lodge, Managing Director for Record RSS commented that "Record RSS are very proud to be using the best duplex coatings system within our industry."

AkzoNobel's UK Marketing Manager Arthur Moseley added "As the Interpon range of powder coatings for corrosion protection develops we need to ensure that the systems are applied to the highest standard. This is where the Interpon PZ Approved Applicators come in – a group of high quality applicators specialising in corrosion protection. We are very pleased that the processes used by Record RSS conform to our standards"
